

To Decide Millage Proposal

Special School Bd. Meeting April 30

A special school board meeting is scheduled for next Monday, April 30th at which a final decision on a millage proposal will be made. Although proposed school operational figures for next year appear to suggest that an increase is inevitable, a final decision on the exact amount has not been established. In-depth studies of school operating costs by the board's finance committee meeting that an increase in of slightly over 3 mills may be on tap for county voters to consider on the June 11th ballot. Based on projected costs for school operation next year, just over 3 1/4 million dollars will be required to operate the schools, more than the present millage can possibly finance.

Clocks "Spring Forward"

Daylight Savings Time Starts Sunday

Be prepared to start "sawing logs" an hour earlier this Saturday night or be prepared to lose an hour's sleep if you don't. That's the night when you set the household clocks forward an hour to welcome Daylight Savings Time to Michigan, officially beginning at 2:00 a.m. Sunday morning.

Unless you want to use the failure to adjust your clock as an "excuse" for missing church Sunday morning, set it ahead one hour when you hit the sack Saturday night.

Car-Deer Accidents On The Rise—Motorists Should Use Care...

Out of eight vehicle accidents investigated by Sheriff's Dept. deputies last week, four involved car-deer collisions. Area motorists are advised to be on the lookout for deer now crossing roads and highways, particularly during the early-morning and evening hours.

Two motorcycle accidents were also reported on the Sheriff's log. The first, occurring at approximately 2:00 a.m. Friday morning on McIntyres Landing Rd. sent Edward LaMotte to Mercy Hospital for treatment. The extent of his injuries was unknown.

At about 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, April 21st, a cycle being ridden by Jeffery Perna went out of control while he was riding alongside M-72 east, some three miles from Grayling, tossing him into the ditch. He was treated at Mercy Hospital for facial cuts and abrasions. Both victims were transported to Mercy Hospital by the Volunteer Ambulance Corps.

Sheriff Curt Haas reported that breaking & enterings slackened off during the past week, probably because downstate residents were present in the County over the Easter Holiday, occupying cabins & cottages that otherwise were vacant throughout the winter months.

Patient Comfort Units Arrive At Mercy

by Joe Schrader

A major move in Grayling's Mercy Hospital construction program took place last Thursday when six heating and air-conditioning units were lifted into place onto the roof of the new addition. According to hospital officials, when the expansion is complete, increased comfort will be provided for all patient areas.

The units were delivered aboard six semi-trucks from Minneapolis, Minn., and arrived just in time for the on-site crane to hoist them into position.

A concrete slab and retaining wall is being installed behind the hospital complex, one that will house a transformer to facilitate operation of the air-handling units. Two new boilers were also delivered, scheduled for placement atop the roof within the next couple of weeks, along with an emergency unit designed to provide service to the hospital in the event of a power failure.

Another construction activity not visible from the front of the new addition is the start of the installation of the brick facing which started in the back and will continue clock-wise around the new addition. (Joe Schrader photo)

"Dial-A-Ride" Millage Vote Set For Next Monday

BY Joe Schrader

The Special Election to determine the fate of Dial-A-Ride will be held next Monday, April 30th. Crawford County residents will vote on the following proposal:

"Shall the County Commissioners of the County of Crawford be directed to levy a sum of money not to exceed 3/4 mill over and above the 15 mill limitation for One year for the sole purpose of operating the Crawford County Public Transportation System (currently as Dial-A-Ride)."

Polls will be open to county residents at their respective township halls, except for Grayling Township residents who will cast ballots at the Grayling Middle School gym. City residents will vote as usual at the City Building. Polling places will be opened at 7:00 a.m. and remain open until 8:00 p.m.

A "yes" vote will result in continuation of the Crawford County Public Transportation System while a negative response by voters will cause the closing of Dial-A-Ride services almost immediately, said Chet Johnston, Transit Manager.

During its 28 months of operation, Dial-A-Ride has traveled county roads over 300,000 miles, transporting some 102,000 passengers to destinations throughout the county.

Fraudulent Activities Investigated By Grayling City Police Dept.

Check law violations and fraudulent activities continue to be a serious problem handled by the Grayling City Police Department. In 1977 Grayling businesses had a total dollar amount of $17,573.46 involved in these criminal activities. $15,990.56 of this amount was recovered through either restitution or legal action, leaving a sum of $1,742.56, which was absorbed by the businesses, Chief of Police Peter Stephan said.

While the recovered amount represents a 90.2% recovery rate it does not show the additional bookkeeping expense required on the part of the business owners, neither does it represent the cost absorbed by the area taxpayers. If these costs consisting of Police investigations and Court procedures were figured into the total expense involved the resulting amount would easily equal or exceed the $17,573.46 amount, Stephan stated.

Businesses are able to recover a percentage of their loss by reflecting them in the retail price of merchandise, the result of this is that the consumer ultimately absorbs this expense as well as having his tax dollar spent also.

In 1978 there was a significant reduction in complaints of this nature handled within the City of Grayling, with a total of 68 complaints handled. These complaints represented a dollar value of $9,485.34, of these $1,793.37 was recovered through restitution or court procedures, resulting in a loss to area businesses of $7,691.97.

The total number of complaints for 1978 was reduced from that of 1977. This reduction it is felt was due largely to efforts of the Prosecutor's Office, as well as local businesses in cooperation with the Grayling Police Department. The factor preventing a more significant amount of restitution was the lack of positive identification of the check endorser by businesses accepting the checks, according to Chief Stephan.

Because of legal problems involving positive suspect identification of check endorser the issuance of a complaint warrant against a suspect will not be granted unless the check endorser's vehicle operators license number and/or date of birth has been recorded on the back of the check. This is inclusive of all checks written, whether they are from local residents or from out of town parties.

Continuing efforts on the part of law enforcement and businesses will further reduce this crime classification, resulting in not only tax dollar but business dollar savings, Stephan added.

Reopens This Weekend New Eagle's Nest

by Joe Schrader

A Sunday afternoon fall storm late in 1977 tore Crawford County apart and demolished the Eagles Club building located on M-72 West (602 Huron St.). No one was injured in the incident even though occupants were inside when the storm struck.

Determined to replace the structure, Eagles Club (Aerie No. 3465) members have been hard at work ever since. Gallant efforts on the part the membership have resulted in the construction of a new facility on the same site. A Grand Re-opening celebration is planned for this weekend, April 28 & 29th.

Eagles Club officials, in announcing the weekend celebration, outlined the history of the organization: "After Grayling Aerie No. 3465 was organized and chartered, meetings were held twice monthly at the Grayling Sportsmen's Club and American Legion Hall while the group searched for suitable land and building sites.

Meanwhile, on May 27, 1973, the Ladies Auxiliary

Grayling Students To Present Annual Broadway Musical

Complete with whirling plaids and skirling music, the enchanting, musical comedy BRIGADOON will come to Grayling's Joseph Stripe Auditorium for three performances beginning 1 May 10, 1979. Terry Burns and Lisa Montague are the featured romantic leads in this captivating Scottish fantasy, written by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe. The original Broadway production of BRIGADOON ran for almost two years, won the New York Drama Critics Award in 1947, made a record breaking tour of the United States and Canada, and has continued ever since to be one of the most popular musical shows in American stage history.

Blending words, music and dance, BRIGADOON tells of the adventures of two vacationing Yanks in the Scottish highlands who stumble into the picturesque and fantastic village of Brigadoon on the day that it comes to life—which is one day every hundred years. Here the people live from century to century in an aura of enchanting and peaceful delight while the rest of the world wears itself out. The Yanks, one romantic, the other sarcastic, are given the choice, in the form of two lovely Scottish maidens, one sweet, the other impudent, or

Forestry Practices—A Major Concern For District

Of the almost 700,000 acres which make up Crawford and Roscommon counties, about 90% of that, or 620,000 acres, is forest land. About 40% of this land is in private ownership, or 260,000 acres.

Improper and non-existent management practices of this private woodlot has become a major concern of the Crawford-Roscommon Soil Conservation District.

Obviously, not all of the forest land in these counties is being poorly managed; but, through previous inventories, it has been determined that approximately 10% of the private forest land is in need of improved management practices.

The question to ask yourself is, "Is my property part of that 10%? Some questions to ask in considering the state of your woodland could be: "Is my forestland at a mature age? Is my forestland overstocked? Do I have open areas that should be planted? Basically, what am I doing with my woodland to enhance wood growth and also encourage wildlife?"

Woodland and wildlife practices can go hand in hand. The best way to determine if your woodland is part of that 10% needing management, is inquire.

For further information, contact the Crawford-Roscommon Soil Conservation District at 409 Lake Street, P.O. Box 156, Roscommon, Michigan 48653 or phone 517-275-5231.

The District tree seedling sale is now in progress. There is still time to order the tree seedlings for reforestation and/or wildlife shrubs for planting this spring.

The district will also have a crew available this year to do tree planting and other forestry and conservation practices.

Mr. Whitey Madsen
Crawford Avalanche
Grayling, Michigan

It gave me a great deal of pleasure to see the picture and read about the Camp Grayling Officers Club being recognized as an Historical Site. I would like to commend and praise the people who worked to make this possible.

As the writer said, "As at no other time in America's past, people are beginning to feel that the very best way to cope with the future is to hold on to a little of the past."

This is one of the objectives of the Crawford County Historical Society. We want to make our museum as popular as possible by devoting it to the natural resources and to the history of the people of a limited geographical area. The writings, pictures, and artifacts are limited to things that depict the history of Crawford County.

At the present time we need more artifacts to tell the story of bygone days in Crawford County. One of the best ways to aid this cause would be a visit to the museum for a look at what is on display. Perhaps you will be reminded of some article long forgotten that would serve as a high point in presenting the story of the heritage and the development of Crawford County. Perhaps you will recall, also, friends and acquaintances who have collections or articles commemorating our history and who might be persuaded to donate or loan them to the museum for special exhibits.

We have been very fortunate to have volunteer help at the museum in the past. I hope we can continue to keep the museum open as it has been in the past. The planned opening is about Friday, May 25 or Saturday, May 26.

There are certain expenses connected with the operation of the Crawford County Historical Museum. It is a non-profit organization. The expenses such as electricity, gas, telephone, insurance and repairs must be met by memberships and donations. I hope that all past members will renew their memberships and we get new members. The building should be painted this summer. Won't you help support your Crawford County Historical Museum?

You can mail in your membership to any of the following members of the museum committee.

Mrs. Betty Milliken, Grayling; Mrs. Mary Wakeley, Grayling; Mrs. Ruth Caid, Lovells; Miss Margaret Douglas, Lovells; Mrs. Mary Harland, Grayling; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Akers, Grayling; Mrs. Sal Truettner, Grayling; Elmer L. Fenton, Grayling. As in the past the memberships will be as follows: Life, $100; Supporting, $25.00; Family, $15.00; Individual, $5.00; Student $2.00. Make checks out to Crawford County Historical Society.

Dear Whitey,
We too would like to express our sadness and sense of loss upon hearing the news of Dr. Waterfall's plans to leave our town.

Like the others before us have written, we too wish him and his family the best, wherever they go. But also hoped that he would reconsider his decision, and once again, look at all the angles before any definite moves are made.

He is an excellent addition to the medical staff here in town. And we truly appreciate his friendly, considerate and thorough bedside manner.

We hate to see him go, but at the same time, feel grateful that we were able to have him the short time that we did.

Sincerely,
Jed, Mary Kay,
Jeremiah and Brooke Blasauw

Alumni News

By Clara Sorenson

We give tribute to Earl Gierke, '28. He taught Commercial subjects here at G.H.S. from 1946 to 1967, when he retired. He had been honored as Teacher of the Year an honor he deserved. Earl was a soft-spoken gentleman with a sense of humor and discipline in the classroom.

There was always time to talk to a student who needed help. He served us as Alumni President in 1955 and had continued his membership to date.

He observed his 50th class anniversary with classmates in the Fall of '78 but did not feel well enough to appear at the Annual Dinner. We are thankful for his dedication to our students. Teaching was his life.

Again, we are proud of G.H.S.

and two former students: Ethel Taylor Pierce, '27, has gained national prominence in her field of Pharmacy, in Massachusetts. Elizabeth Matson, '30, in Who's Who, Professor of Physical Education at University of Pacific, California. We have a lot of honorees who have not made the news.

From Our Corner ...

Crawford County voters will be going to the polls next Monday to make the decision on whether 3/4 of a mill over and above the 15 limitation should be levied by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners for one year for the sole purpose of operating the Crawford County Public Transportation System, better known as Dial-A-Ride.

This is one more time we feel that we cannot tell anyone how to spend their money. Anytime millage comes before the voters, and we're one of them, the first thought is, not again...may we give you one more thought to think of...

This goes along with any millage vote...the question is, is it really needed?

We have never had to use the system ourselves, but, we do know many people that need it...some nearly every day...others now and then...while others have used it in emergency.

We believe Dial-A-Ride is and has been in the past giving a service that would be hard to replace, if at all possible.

For what it is worth...we are going to vote for the continuation of Dial-A-Ride.

Just in case you haven't noticed the Avalanche's new face, may we bring attention to it...

We had a new Compugraphic typesetting machine installed last week, and just about the whole crew has had to go back to the basic and learn what this machine can do, that our other two machines did...for example...the old straight matter (that's stories, not ads) machine had two fonts of type (faces)...while the other machine was strictly for headlines, and ad copy...the new one does both...plus having six fonts, with four type faces per font, and each one ranges from 6 to 72 point...

...confusing maybe to our readers, but, it is like a new toy to a child with us...just one more step in our efforts of bringing you a better Avalanche to read...we hope you will bear with us in the next few weeks as we experiment with the different type styles, to find out which will be more acceptable to our readers...

It was nice to hear from the lady we referred to a few weeks back about seeing her and her remarks about liking our corner. Mrs. Crosby sent us the article on the Dog Fish, appearing elsewhere in this issue, and informed us that she lived on the Manistee, and not Bear Lake as we reported previously.

A GUEST EDITORIAL. The following editorial was a presentation by Les Biederman, President of WTCM, AM-FM, Traverse City, which was aired on April 11, and was brought to our attention by one of our readers.

We Salute The Traverse City Commission

Few people who have not served in public office realize the hours, the needed dedication, the study and the frustrations of serving on a body such as the City Commission.

From time to time, the members are put under considerable pressure by various citizens and groups of citizens that have a particular axe to grind. Very few citizens without an interest in a particular issue attend a meeting of the City Commission, but the Commissioners are there.

They for the most part do their duty and do it reasonably well. They feel a great responsibility. The job does not bring great prestige, but does bring lots of work, and much of it home work.

Not only do the commissioners attend the meetings available to the public, but they have many committee meetings, study sessions, briefing by department heads and other activities that take time away from their own personal life.

We greatly respect those that serve in such a position, and we also greatly respect those who run for the office and do not get elected. To a degree they also serve.

It is very frustrating, to run for office and get defeated. You wonder whether the public voted against you or for another one.

We congratulate those that have been elected and particularly the new Mayor, who we know from personal experience is a dedicated and hard working member of the Commission. We also thank those who ran and did not make Running the business of the public is not an easy job, and at times is very frustrating.

Lansing Junior Symphony To Appear At Kirtland

The orchestra is completing its 20th concert season as a popular area youth performing group, which is principally sponsored by the Lansing School District.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Baptist Separation From Worldliness

"Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world." (1 John 2:15, 16. "For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world." Titus 2:11, 12.

There are many specific sins mentioned in the Bible as worldly including sex outside marriage. "Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God." James 4:4.

Love of money is another worldly sin. "No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon." Luke 16:13.

Separation from worldliness is not only to involve personal separation, but also separation from people who claim to be Christians who practice such sins. "I wrote unto you in an epistle not to company with fornicators...But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one no not to eat..." (1 Cor 5:9, 11, 13b.

Though Baptist may practice separation from professed Christians who practice such sin, they do not practice separation from unsaved sinners who practice the same sins. "Yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world." 1 Cor 5:10.

The following twelve questions given me by C.F. Olin may be of great help to you in determining if a thing is worldly or right for your life: 1) Is it definitely forbidden in God's Word? James 4:17. 2) Will it lead me into temptation? James 1:13-15. 3) Will it hurt my body? 1 Cor. 3:16, 17. 4) Is it habit forming or enslaving? 1 Cor. 6:12. 5) Will it be a hindrance to my Christian life? Heb. 12:1. 6) Will it be a stumbling block to anyone, or will it hurt other Christians? 1 Cor. 8:9-13. 7) Is it questionable? Rom. 14:23. 8) Would Christ do it? 1 Peter 2:21. 9) The Lord is with me, will it please Him? Heb 13:5. 10) Can I ask the Lord's blessing on it? Col. 3:17. 11) Would I want to be doing it when He comes again? 1 John 2:28. 12) Can I witness to others while doing it? 1 Peter 3:15. If you still have a doubt, try Phil 4:8 and 11 Peter 1:2-9. (adv.)

was initiated which greatly enhanced and strengthened the organization and whose untiring efforts and support contributed to the success of the Aerie.

On or about February 1, 1975, the Grayling Aerie purchased the land and two-story brick building on 602 Huron St., the present club site.

After extensive remodeling the Aerie home was officially opened on November 1, 1975. In just thirty-seven months a dream had come true.

On the afternoon of September 4, 1977, devastating tornado winds destroyed the Grayling Aerie home along with all the members' hopes and dreams.

On that dark day in our brief history, we gave thanks for a miracle that no one was injured, although were informed that the building was a total loss.

From out of the rubble, the members of this Aerie and Auxiliary, a dedicated organization, banded together and began a rebuilding program, culminating in the beautiful new facility which we proudly display for the public to view.

Building Committee members include Norman Lesinski, Vern Fouracre, Robert MacPhail and Club Pres. William Bellanger.

Despite the disaster that struck the club, it has battled back and is now offering the public the opportunity to visit and view the new facility.

A ribbon-cutting event is scheduled for 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, the 28th, and a Public Open House "Social Hour" will be held from 2 p.m. to about 5 o'clock that day.

The re-opening event will continue through Sunday for Club members and invited guests with a Social Hour beginning at noon and initiation of Eagles Club members set for 3:00 p.m. The celebration will conclude with a dance late that afternoon.

Sandwich Storage To keep a sandwich extra-safe from spoilage, freeze it. It will thaw in time for lunch and keep the rest of your food cool in the process.

Why did the Puritans come to this country?

Abusive

ns to you when they need help? Do you like to help? How often do you get out of the house? Would you like to get out more or less?

Both abusive and neglectful parents will find other people unhelpful and feel that they cannot be of help to anyone else.

4. SPOUSE RELATIONS:
How do you and your spouse, boy/girlfriend resolve the problems, differences of opinions, does he/she help with the kids? How? What does he/she do when you've had it with the kids? How was his/her childhood?

In abuse cases the spouse will be unhelpful with the kids and at times make things more difficult. In neglect cases spouses will be unhelpful and unhelpful. For both abuse and neglect cases problems between spouses will not be resolved.

5. ROLE REVERSAL WITH CHILDREN:

Do their kids live up to their expectations? What are they? How do you wish your kids to make you happy? Feel good? What do they do when you are upset? When should kids be toilet trained? Weaned? What is the best way to discipline kids and when should you start?

Abusive parents will make excessive demands on children and be disappointed no matter how obedient the child/children are. Neglectful parents will make few, if any, demands on the children. Rather leaving them to fend for themselves.

6. HANDICRAFT OF CHILD REARING:

Do they know what to do when the kids are sick or having a problem? Do they know how to play with kids, etc.?

Abusive and/or neglectful parents may know what needs to be done for kids but may not have the energy or be too upset to do it. On the other hand, they may have very faulty information on the needs of the children.

7. SPECIAL CHILD:
Are any of your kids different from the rest (more difficult, sickly, etc.)? When did you notice the difference? Does he/she remind you of anyone you know? If so, who and what do you think of them?

Abusive parents will usually only abuse one child and that child will have real or imagined difficulties. This is really not applicable in neglect.

8. CRISIS:

How have things been for you lately? Anything especially upsetting such as: argument with a friend, spouse, relatives, unemployment, car broken down, etc.?

In abuse a crisis will have precipitated the incident. Many times assisting families to cope with crises is the beginning to better mental health.

If you have any questions about any of these areas, please do not hesitate to send me a letter or call. I will attempt to answer your questions in future articles.

Next week we will discuss, "Identifying the Abused Child."

Sweet Adelines Activities

Mid-Mitten Chapter held their rehearsal Wednesday April 18th, at St. Elizabeths Parish Hall at Higgins Lake due to school vacation. Much work was done on show songs and lots of laughs and fun practicing choreography. If things get boring or dull at home, you husbands should ask your wives to rehearse for you. We promise by curtain time these "wrinkles will be ironed out!"

On Monday, April 16th, the chorus sang for the Liars Club at Houghton Lake. They gave us a rousing reception...but then they are liars so its hard to tell whether to believe them!!!

We are all waiting with John for Susan to have her baby. The time is now but the baby hasn't cooperated as yet.

Hints for presidential candidate watchers

RICHARD MILLIMAN

Presidential candidate posturing is proceeding in earnest these days, on both sides of the political scenery. It makes an interesting game to watch; as a matter of fact, those of us who pay even the slightest attention to politics and public affairs have no choice but to watch...and wonder.

Like every other game, the contest of presidential posturing follows certain rules, some written and some unwritten. National columnist Gary Wills recently set down four "psychological rules" involved in running for president. They might help us understand what's going on these days.

1. When a man has run for the presidency, says Wills, he keeps running all the rest of his life...and he points to Harold Stassen, Hubert Humphrey, even George McGovern and Gene McCarthy. An "exception that proves the rule" is Barry Goldwater, Wills says, but "he only half ran" in the first place.

"The campaign itself is a drug, and men keep yearning for another fix," Wills claims.

2. "Once people start talking to a man about being president, that man wants them to keep talking," Wills says. "Even if he doesn't want to run...he wants others to talk of it."

Wills points out this tactic not only flatters but is useful for a professional politician because it "draws attention to other hopes or projects" and it can produce money and backing "that are bound to come in handy."

3. Once this entire process is underway, is self-propelled, developing an "automatic momentum, so the final decision to run is not so much made, it makes itself," Wills writes.

"Even if the potential candidate was not serious at the outset, the seriousness of others affects him insensibly; or his seriousness heats the cooler types around him. The oscillation propels most of them him. The oscillation propels the whole apparatus forward before most of them even feel ground going by."

4. Optimism is almost fatal in many cases, it appears. Wills says that "each candidate thinks this process came upon him in a way not quite like that seen in any other case." The human animal being as he is, this is not unusual at all.

Wills says, "the general futility of the matter does not deter individuals," because "they look at the one winner rather than the hundred losers...see more parallels in their case with the former class than with the latter."

And so it is. Columnist Wills' psychological rules may prove helpful as we attempt to understand why the presidential field becomes so crowded with candidates. Hope springs eternal. And it's probably just as well it does.

Do you ever wonder why business gets fed up with government red tape? Look at some of these figures listed recently in The Wall Street Journal:

A self-study by R.J. Reynolds Industries showed that abiding by rules laid down in 1977 by 40 federal agencies and departments cost Reynolds at least 20 cents a share, or about $29 million.

General Motors reported its compliance cost in 1977 was $1.6 billion, or almost half of the total of GM earnings which hit $3.3 billion. GM says it required the "equivalent effort" of 24,500 full-time employees to meet federal regulations.

Caterpillar Tractor in a 1976 study figured it spent $87.6 million to meet government regulations.

Almost all firms will agree that some regulatory costs are necessary, and in some cases represent things the companies would do on their own. But, as Reynolds reported, "by overburdening producers with paper work, (government) regulation stifles both economic and psychological incentive."

Is all that government paperwork necessary? Probably not. But how do we get out of the red tape jungle? Ah! That's the quandary. Any Ideas?

A "Home Run" Will Run Someone $500,000

The Michigan Lottery is offering a half million dollar lump sum Grand Prize in its instant game, "Home Run". This new game, with a baseball theme, premieres Tuesday, April 24, 1979 with approximately 26.8 million tickets and $10.5 million in cash prizes.

Instant prizes range from a "Free Ticket" to $5,000. The top of the ticket has nine "baseballs", or spots, representing nine innings. Under each baseball will be found the score for that inning. If the player's total score (the sum of the nine innings) is greater than the opponent's score, found under "Their Score" spot on the ticket, the player wins the cash prize shown under the "Prize" spot. If the player's score ties with "Their Score" the player wins a "Free Ticket". On the average, one ticket in four (1:3.8) wins a prize. Over 44,000 winners of $25 will be eligible to participate in the Elimination Drawing. In which ten Grand Prize finalists are drawn to go on and complete for additional prizes ranging from $10,000 to $500,000 (in one lump sum payment).

Lottery agents will redeem "Free Tickets", $2 and $5 winners. Tickets winning from $25 to as much as $500 may be claimed at an official Lottery Claim Center. Players who need to claim a $5,000 winner must go to one of the regional lottery offices or Lottery Central in Lansing. These offices are located as follows: Grayling, County Building; Portage (Kalamazoo)-5232 Portage Rd.; Marquette-105 East Washington; Oak Park-13391 West Nine Mile; Saginaw 310 Johnson in the Downtown Saginaw Mall; Lansing-6545 Mercantile Way.

Instant winners of $25 or more will be paid by check once their lottery claim form has been processed and validated (a process that usually takes about three weeks). All Grand Prizes are paid in full the night of the Grand Drawing which will be held at a time and place designated by the Commissioner, and is open to the public.

Election of new officers was held Saturday, April 7th. Results of Election: Governor-Ron Eberts; Jr. Governor-Curt Marshall; Prelate, Ed Sturdivant; Treasurer, Bob Fender; 1 Year Trustee, Terry Johnson; 2 Year Trustee, Fred Reichelderfer; 3 Year Trustee, Danny Riness. Meadow Brook Theatre To Perform at Roscommon

The fifth consecutive Meadow Brook Theatre tour of Michigan will bring John Ulmer's hilarious adaptation of Moliere's farce, "The Adventures of Scapin," to Roscommon High School auditorium on Tuesday, May 8, 1:00 p.m. & 8:15 p.m. Meadow Brook Theatre will perform in Roscommon thanks to the sponsorship of Roscommon Chamber Music in cooperation with the Michigan Society — Arts Council, council for the Arts. For ticket information please call Pat Kowski at Roscommon Middle School and any member.

The plot of this timeless farce involves favorite comic themes—Young love thwarted by miserly fathers, mistaken identities, long lost children who were stolen by gypsies, and countless other complications. As expected, all of the troubles are solved through the charming and reckless daring of

Helping Hands

The Crawford County Helping Hands Club will be holding a Coffee Break on April 29th at the Frederic Sportsman Hall, from 12:00 Noon to 5:00.

LEADING ROLES—Mary Gutzi and Curtis J. Armstrong will play leading roles in the Meadow Brook Theatre's touring production of "The Adventures of Scapin" which will be performed in Roscommon at the Roscommon High School on Tuesday, May 8th at 1 & 8:15 P.M. under the sponsorship of the Roscommon Chamber Music Society Arts Council.

Scapin, the clever servant, who always outwits his master and saves the day.

The character of Scapin is as old as comedy. He is a schemer, who races through a series of wildly funny complications, talking himself into and out of trouble with lightning speed, while winning hearts along the way and avenging himself against his persecutors at the end.

John Ulmer, who adapted "The Adventures of Scapin," also staged the farce with a talented cast of actors from London, New York and Detroit.

This spring's Meadow Brook Theatre Tour of "The Adventures of Scapin" has been funded by the State Legislature, through the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Note: Only evening performance tickets are available in advance. Matinee tickets will be sold at the door the day of the performance.

The Avalanche-Your Want Ad Paper

BY Willard E. Bosserman
Co. Ext. Dir.

Soil is the basic ingredient in growing crops, vegetables or lawn. It is important to know about soil in order to manage for the greatest production without depleting it or exposing it to erosion.

TEXTURE

Texture is the relative proportions of sand, silt and clay. Sand silt and clay differ in individual size. Sand has the largest particle size. Clay has the smallest and the silt particle size is in between.

Sand is important in the soil to aid in drainage. Where there is little sand present the soil does not drain well. Sand also aids in easier working of the soil.

Silt is important in holding moisture for plants to use. Some of the finer silt particles may store plant food but that is primarily the job of clay.

Clay is the finer of the soil particles. Not only are clay particles smaller, they have a different shape and are more chemically active. Instead of being blocky in shape like sand and silt, clay particles are plate-like. This plate-like shape gives them more surface area and they tend to stick to one another. This is why clay soils are sticky. They also hold water between the particles which tends to push them apart. When they are wet they push apart causing the soil to swell. When it dries the soil contracts.

Clay particles have a great ability to hold water, but some of it is held so tight plants can't get it.

Clay particles also have a negative electrical charge. This negative electrical charge gives clay the ability to hold plant nutrients that have a positive electrical charge. Some of the important nutrients that have a positive charge are potassium, calcium, magnesium and the ammonium form of nitrogen.

In summary of soil texture, sand aids in drainage and workability of soil, silt holds water for plants, and clay acts as a plant food reservoir.

A combination of sand, silt and clay which does not have the identifying characteristic of either, is called loam. Loam might have 40 percent silt, 40 percent sand and 20 percent clay. A sandy loam would be a soil with a higher percent of sand, silt or clay to make it more like you want it.

ORGANIC MATTER

Organic matter is the plant residue which is left after harvest or added to the soil as composted material or barnyard manure. Organic matter can change some of the characteristics of soil texture, but does not change the texture.

Organic matter will increase the moisture holding capacity greatly. It will increase the plant nutrient holding capacity four times that of clay. Besides, organic matter releases nutrients as it is decomposed. Organic matter will make the soil easier to work and improves the drainage.

Organic matter can be high in nitrogen and is a method of supplying nitrogen to the soil. Clay particles do not hold the nitrate form of nitrogen because it has a negative charge, the same as clay. Elements of like charges repel each other. Nitrogen is made available to the plants as the organic matter is decomposed. If the organic source is a material low in nitrogen like sawdust, very little nitrogen is made available as it decomposes. In fact the micro-organisms "tie-up" what little nitrogen that is available in decomposing the sawdust, thereby depriving the plants of that important plant food.

COMPOSTING

One important way the soil can be made fertile is to supply plant nutrients from organic matter. One way of doing this is through a compost pile. The material raked from the lawn can be used, including leaves. Garbage can be added to the compost pile. These materials can be worked right in to the garden soil where it will be decomposed by soil micro-organisms.

Canned Goods
Canned goods and staple products such as flour, pasta, sugar and cereal generally will keep a year or more even if stored tightly closed in a cool, dry place.

Dog 'fish' gives angler a scare

When the great fish stories of all time are told this one should perhaps be among them. It seems a young Deford man and two companions were spending this past spring-like Saturday ice fishing on Mud Creek between Bay Port and Caseville when suddenly the solitude of the moment was interrupted by a crashing from nearby. Turning at precisely the right moment the young men witnessed a man crashing through the front of his shanty onto the ice. The man was reportedly shaking uncontrollably and the young men rushed to his side to lend assistance. They thought certainly the man had been stricken by a seizure or a heart attack.

All the man was able to do was mumble but after some 20 minutes he calmed down to the point that he was able to tell the following story.

It seems that some 15 feet further down the ice a man was fishing in his shanty with his Labrador Retriever. He apparently latched on to a good-sized pike and had the fish up through the ice when it spit out the hook and fell back into the icy waters of Mud Creek. Ever-faithful, the dog dove in after the fish.

Unable, one would guess, to find his way back to the proper hole, the dog swam towards a spot of light some 15 feet away.

Guilping and gasping for air the rather large, black dog came lunging up through the ice into the poor victim's shanty, scaring him so badly that he threw himself, quaking, through the door of his shack and out onto the ice.

The dog, by the way, was fine. The fish got away.

Long Boat

like Lovells Lodge."

Stephan, who has been building long boats since early in the 1960's, anticipates that the longer downriver vessel is making a comeback, not only here in Crawford County, but in other areas of the nation as well. "I've had requests for long boat construction plans from a number of our neighboring states, and, as a matter of fact, from as far away as Nova Scotia."

A 19-year trout fishing guide, Stephan spends his spare time constructing new craft, using plywood he buys downstate as a basic raw material. Operating the business out of his own basement, he also specializes in the refinishing of long boats brought to him for repair purposes.

Over the years, the long boat has gradually been replaced on area streams by smaller, aluminum canoes. Stephan thinks long boat popularity is on the rise. That prophetic outlook has prompted his almost single-handed endeavor over the years.

The vessels, fashioned primarily from plywood, take about 120 hours of labor to construct. "Most of the time is spent in finishing the crafts," he continued on, "the fiberglass and the final varnish finish takes the majority of our time."

Stephan is regularly employed as a supervisor for General Telephone Company so that all of his boat-building efforts are conducted during his off hours. About a month ago, Larry LaMotte indicated an interest in the trade and has been helping Stephan out ever since. Larry is a local resident who offered his services and, according to Stephan, is now learning the "tricks of the trade." Stephan's 15-year-old son, Steve, is also participating in his dad's operation.

Their current project, almost completed now, involves the refinishing of a long boat which they've been working on now for about a month. When completed the vessel will be sleek-looking, seaworthy and aptly able to travel capably down local waterways.

Stephan said in a recent interview that long boats range in length from 20 to 24 feet and run some 37 to 38 inches in width. The overall design of the vessel, considering length, width and depth, make them especially stable and manageable in the water. As many as five people can comfortably cruise downstream on a fishing or sight-seeing adventure.

While talking with him, Stephan fondly recalled the days when regattas headed downstream on the AuSable, starting out in Grayling and ending up at Stephan Bridge, "where a big pot luck dinner was served." The long boat regatta was revived early in the 1970's.

Stephan built his first long boat in the early '60's (for his father) and has continued working on the special project ever since. He's confident the long boat tradition is in the process of being restored and is lining up work designed to put more and more vessels on local, state and national streams. His advertising is based strictly on his own reputation for craftsmanship.

Stephan reminisced that the long boats were popularly used years ago by local guides and club caretakers. He recalled that the Stephens, Wakeleys, Feldhausers, Redheads, Cunninghams and Mikesels were prominent long boat river guides in the Crawford County area.

He displays an unusual art and talent that's been too long unrecognized.

La Leche League Meeting Notice

If you have considered breastfeeding your baby, but have questions about this womanly art, contact the Roscommon La Leche League. This month's meeting, "The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties," will be held on Thursday, May 3 at 7:30 p.m. at 150 E. Houghton Lake Dr., M-18, Prudenville. The discussion for the evening will include encouragement and information on how to establish a happy nursing relationship.

La Leche League believes breastfeeding gives the best possible start in good mothering and helps to develop and deepen the close relationship between a mother and her child.

A series of meetings are held in members' homes, to acquaint those interested with the physical, practical, and psychological sides of breastfeeding. Expectant mothers are encouraged to attend the series before the baby arrives. Nursing babies are always welcome. For further information, or for breastfeeding help, call group leader Carolyn Crist at 275-8431.

CREATIVITY

Only man can create with his hands, making beautiful things from the substances that come from God's earth. Only man can truly reason. Only man can run the full gamut of feeling from joy and victory to despair and defeat.

We are complex creatures, because we can create and reason and feel. Sometimes it seems virtually impossible to bring our faculties into a sensible focus. Everything from unpaid bills to vital decisions affecting ourselves and our loved ones seems to be just a step ahead of us. We are eternally running to keep up, and often falling short.

No one ever said that we had to go it alone. The Church isn't a crutch but it is a sanctuary, a place where souls are healed. Have you been there lately?

OF SAGINAW

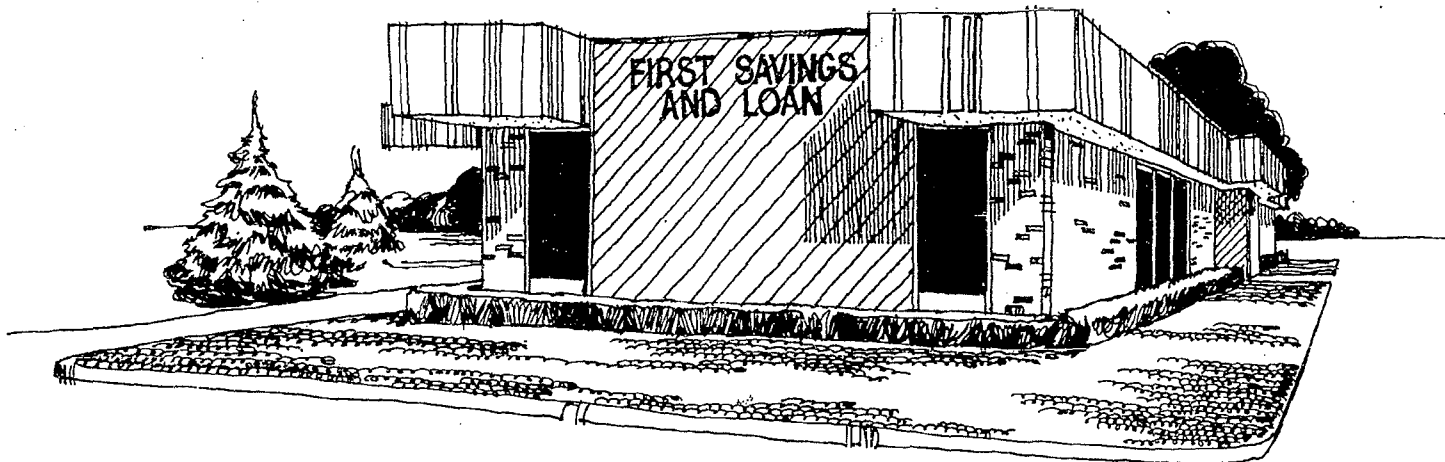

ONE-HALF BILLION

THANKS A HALF BILLION

First Savings has reached another important milestone . . . $500,000,000. in assets. That makes us the 180th largest savings and loan in the country (out of 4,723 S & L's) and the largest state chartered savings and loan in outstate Michigan. Not bad for a 91 year old youngster who's just begun to grow.

We thought about doing something really grandiose to celebrate like saying a half billion thank yous over the radio, until we found out it would take all the radio stations in all the cities where we have offices about 200, 24 hour days of saying nothing but "thank you" to make a half billion.

So instead, we'll just say "Thanks a Half Billion" from all the people at First Savings. The Half Billion Dollar One You Can Count On.

Lottery Ends The Best Six Months In Its History

The Michigan Lottery ended last fiscal year (September 30, 1978) with a $141 million contribution to the State General Fund, 25% more than it contributed in 1976-77. Lottery figures released today, for the first six months of 1979, show that lottery sales continue to grow at a record setting pace. From October 1, 1978 through March 31, 1979, the lottery sold $200 million in tickets, paid $95 million in cash prizes, and returned over $81 million to the State General Fund. Each of these figures is 27% above the comparable six month period last year.

The three-digit "Daily" game produced 55% of the sales revenue, while the "Instant" type games contributed 39%, and the 50 cent "Michigan" provided 6% of the dollar volume. "Daily" game ticket sales now average about $5 million a week. "Instant" game sales average about $4 million a week. The "Michigan" sells about 1 million tickets each week, for another $500,000 in gross sales.

Lottery profits are used to help support virtually all state services.

Editor's Mailbox

To the parents of the children who play around the Old Dam Road Bridge.

In going up and down Old Dam Road you may have noticed that we, (Sandy's Value Homes), have started construction on a new home near the bridge. There is a new family moving to the area from the downstate area. They are moving to Grayling partly to get away from the problems we all associate with the downstate area.

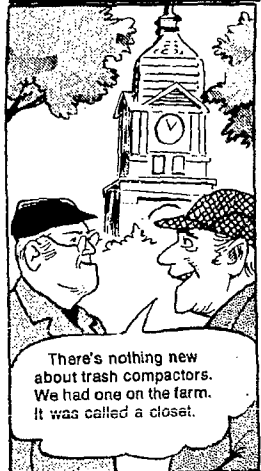

In the last two weeks we have had three instances of vandalism. The people who are building the new home brought a picnic table up last Friday and by Saturday morning it had been damaged and pushed down the hill. We fixed the table and found it Monday, broken and in the river. We have a tractor on the lot, it's old and not much to look at but it is worth about $8,000.00 as it is. As far as we know the extent of the damage was the flattening of the big back tires. We can not buy the type of valve stems that were removed in Grayling so we are not sure of the total damage at this time.

We do not want to place "keep out" signs all over that beautiful river property but we must protect our equipment and the property. We will prosecute if the vandals are caught. If it becomes necessary we will fence the property and the only people who will experience its beauty will be the people living there.

Please talk to your children about this, a simple word from a concerned parent may stop this senseless destruction and help keep this a great area in which to live.

Bits O'Talk

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Stites and Ralph Stites and families.

Tom Brady went to the Bahamas for a ten-day vacation to visit friends from the Immigration Service with whom he had worked in Port Huron. Last week, the Bradys entertained five-year old Joel Burns of Marine City during his school vacation.

Happy Birthday to Sadie Brady on her 90th which fell on April 22, 1979.

Happy Birthday to Jack Scheer down there in Sarasota, Fla., on his 93rd which falls on April 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gothro were in Lansing for several days last week where they went to attend a wedding on Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. Len Allison returned home on April 1 after spending the winter at Rockport, Texas. Len says he saw Johnny Gunderson and that he is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Larson and daughters, Kris and Angie, spent their vacation visiting her family in Iowa. They visited her parents, the Maurice OConnors in Bedford, her sister and family, the Wilmes in New Market, and her brother and wife, the Jimmy O'Connors in Sheridan. While they were there they celebrated Kris' 13th birthday and also Jerry's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Walker arrived home last Tuesday after spending the winter near Tampa, Fla. On the way home they golfed in Alabama and Tennessee. They spent the Easter weekend with relatives in Kentucky. They had a nice winter and played a lot of golf.

remaining in Brigadoon or going back to the hurly-burly of the modern world.

Set to the background of authentic Scotch burrs, tartans, and plaids the action moves through an inventive blending of romance, comedy, drama and excitement with such song hits as "Almost Like Being In Love", "The Heather On The Hill", "Come to Me, Bend To Me", and "From This Day On."

The breathlessly suspenseful Sword Dance, the gay Wedding Dance, the dramatic Chase and the moving Funeral Dance, all based on the Highland Flings and other Scottish Folk Dances, contribute some of the most pleasurable scenes of the show.

Mr. Burns will sing the role of the romantic Yank who falls in love with the Scotch lassie, as played by Lisa Montague, and has to make the choice of staying with his true love or going back to America. John Watkins will be his sarcastic friend who is valiantly and hilariously pursued by the impudent man-chasing maid who is played by Sue Prause. Alicia Taylor and Todd Dunkley are the young romantic couple who are to be married on the day that the two visitors enter Brigadoon because of his lost love and thereby cause the enchanted village to vanish forever. Scott Dunkley is the local school master who explains the tale of Brigadoon to the two travelers.

Tickets for BRIGADOON are now on sale at the Grayling Pharmacy in downtown Grayling with all seats reserved for the May 10, 11 and 12 performances. Tickets may also be ordered by mail or by phone through the Grayling Community School Office. The production is being staged by Howard Taylor, with Eva Strempe, Jeff Bennett and Linda Townsend acting as assistants. Choreography is by Louise Hayes, owner of Louise's Dance Studio in Grayling.

Governmental Bookkeeping Course At Kirtland C.C.

William G. Ingleson, Director of Student & Community Services, recently announced that details have been completed with Michigan State University and Kirtland Community College to offer the Michigan Governmental Bookkeeping Course for local governments.

Classes will be held in the Student Center Building at Kirtland Community College. Classes will begin Saturday, May 12, 1979 and run for six Saturdays, ending June 16, 1979. Classes will start at 9:00 a.m. and end at 1:00 p.m.

Registration for this course is open to any appointed or elected officials of local governmental units. The fee is $125 per participant, and covers all instruction and books.

The Michigan Office of the Intergovernmental Personnel Act Project has recommended the funding of a proposal for fee credits submitted by the Michigan Townships Association in cooperation with the Institute for Community Development. Pending final approval from the program committee, this bookkeeping course will be eligible for a 50% fee credit.

If the fee credit is approved, your unit will be billed for $62.50 per participant, instead of the full cost of $125/participant.

This basic course is planned for those who have little or no training or experience in governmental accounting and bookkeeping.
